Speed 'Spend-Lend' Act, Congress Urged

WASHINGTON, June 1—Warning that the nation's unemployment situation has grown worse, President Roosevelt today sent an urgent appeal to Congress to expedite passage of the $3,247,000,000 spend-and-lend bill and to give him broad powers to meet the emergency.

The President outlined the situation in a letter to Senator Alva Adams (D.) of Colorado, who is piloting the bill through the Senate.

His action was quickly interpreted by administration senators as greatly strengthening their stand against demands of Republicans and conservative Democrats that the funds be earmarked by assigning them for use on specified projects.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote Adams that unemployment has "grown worse" since he sent his relief message to Congress six weeks ago.

The President's letter said: "On my return this morning I have held a conference with representatives of the Public Works Administration, the Works Progress Administration and the Treasury."

"Since I sent my relief message to the Congress, six weeks ago, the unemployment situation has grown worse, and, therefore, if the government undertakes to relieve unemployment by the measure now before Congress, the time element is an essential to success.

"It is obvious that undertaking projects next winter or spring will not contribute to the serious necessities of this summer or autumn. Furthermore, it is hoped that private industry and finance,

U. S. in Sharp Jap Demands

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The United States demanded today that Japan take immediate steps "to restore American properties in China to their rightful owners."

In a strong note presented by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew to Foreign Minister Ugaki, the Japanese were told that their "infringement of and interference with American rights in China" was "giving the government of the United States increasing concern."

It was pointed out that while Japanese civilians have been permitted to enter and do business in areas from which the Sino-Jap conflict has moved on, American businessmen and missionaries have been denied permission, not only to resume their residences, but even to visit their holdings.

State Department officials estimated more than 300 Americans have been waiting in Shanghai for months to get permission to return to their properties in the Yangtze Valley, including Nanking.

"It is difficult," Japan was told, to perceive any warrant for the continued placing by the Japanese authorities of obstacles in the way of return by Americans who have legitimate reason for proceeding to the areas in question."

Nazis Seize 317 Jews

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

BERLIN, June 1—Squadrons of brown-shirted Nazi officials and police staged a series of spectacular midnight raids on scores of cafes along Berlin's "Great White Way," rounding up 339 persons, including 317 Jews, and whisking them early today to police headquarters.

Truckloads of night club patrons roared down Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin's Broadway, toward the capital's largest police station at Alexanderplatz, where the suspects were held for questioning.

An official statement said that as a result of evidence gathered in seeking out "criminal elements," police had netted 76 criminals. The statement added:

"There were also a number of political suspects. A number of foreigners who were not in possession of the necessary identification papers also were taken into custody."

"At the same time, evidence of criminal violations was found."

MAY FREE FOREIGNERS
It was not learned if there were any Americans among the detained foreigners, but it was assumed the foreigners would be released shortly with the exception of criminal or political suspects.

According to official sources the raids were staged for the purpose of rounding up the "criminal elements" which specialize in dope smuggling.

But despite these statements attributing no anti-Semitic or political angle to the wholesale arrests, it was believed the real purpose of the raids was to check up on the identity of Jewish cafe frequenters

Hitler May Quit His War Against Protestant Church

BERLIN, June 1 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler is reliably reported in Protestant church circles to be convinced that Nazi opposition to the church should cease.

There is no official evidence as yet of any orders to that effect, but the understanding among prominent Protestant churchmen is that Hitler has reached the conclusion extreme Nazi criticism is not stamping out the church.

Hitler is pictured as disappointed that the Nazi so-called "German Christian" movement did not sweep the church as he intended.

New orders apply especially to scurrilous references in the extreme Nazi press to the person of Jesus Christ.

In the hope of catching unwary non-Aryans in the act of consorting with Aryan girls or vice versa, RAIDS LONG PLANNED

The mass arrests, it was thought certain, would also give Nazi authorities a prime opportunity of forcing Berlin Jews to explain the source of any pocket money they may be caught with in order to establish whether or not they have had any part in engineering foreign exchange irregularities.

It was not immediately learned whether similar raids were carried out simultaneously in other German cities with comparatively large Jewish populations, but from the manner in which Berlin's cafes were swiftly emptied of Jewish patrons it was plain Nazi authorities had planned their drive for some time.

Police drove trucks up to four of the most fashionable Jewish cafes on the Kurfuerstendamm.

CROWDS SEE RAIDS

They and many brown-shirted officials then entered the clubs, first demanding patrons' identification papers, then requesting them to accompany officers to the lorries.

Huge crowds gathered outside, but there were no major disturbances.

2 Nazis Shot By Czechs

PRAGUE, June 1 (INS)—A new inflammatory incident of the type feared by the whole world since German-Czech tension arose to an alarming degree occurred today when two Sudeten Germans were shot by Czech bullets in Eger.

The shootings occurred in a cafe in the same Sudeten town where only a few weeks ago two Germans were killed by Czech police while allegedly attempting to run a blockade on motorcycles.

It was this first incident that precipitated the grave situation which many feared would culminate in a Nazi march on Czechoslovakia.

An official statement issued here sought to minimize the incident by declaring the shootings were not intentional.

A Czechoslovakian non-commissioned officer, it was said, became involved in an altercation with a group of 35 Sudeten men in an Eger cafe.

During the argument and in an ostensible attempt to restore order, the officer "fired two shots at the ground," the statement said.

The bullets apparently ricocheted, wounding the two Sudeten men, in the leg, Prague officials opened an inquiry.

There was considerable fear of mass Sudeten demonstration over the woundings which might take a less peaceful form than that which attended the funerals of the two Germans killed in Eger.

'Miracle' Role Spells

Bette Davis Triumph

Special from Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 1—Dreams of blonde Bette Davis of Newton, Mass., acclaimed as one of America's truly great actresses, came true today with her selection for the role of the nun in Max Reinhardt's "The Miracle," inspirational spectacle to be filmed by Warner Brothers.

The role was the most sought in Hollywood, in what will may be the banner production of 1933.

Miss Davis in recent years faithfully has played a series of roles always with a great emotional part as her goal. Frequently she battled over castings and only recently won a victory concerning her future selections.

Her new role was played originally by the great dramatic actress Lady Diana Manners, who alternated also as the Madonna.

Among those who aspired to the role was the late Rosamond Pinchof, wife of Boston's William A. Gaston. She was chosen for the role by Reinhardt himself, when he first saw her during an Atlantic crossing.

Another was Elinor Patterson, daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago newspaper publisher.

Miss Jane Bancroft, Boston society actress and horsewoman, was offered the role of the nun by Morris Gest for a presentation in Boston.

"The Miracle" is an awe-inspiring spectacle of the eternal struggle of right and wrong within the human breast, pervaded by the theme of the probation, fall and ultimate restoration of the struggling human soul. The story has come down from ancient times, changing little during the centuries it was retold until it finally was placed on parchment.

No production date has yet been announced by Warner Brothers.

Gest was the first to immortalize "The Miracle" in Boston. He transformed the Boston Opera House into a great cathedral. On October 28, 1923, Gest created the magnificent illusion of massive Gothic columns rising to dizzy heights.

Colliding with an Elevated up-right on Main street, Charlestown, as he swerved to avoid another truck, William DiFice, 28, of Lexington, driver of a milk truck, was trapped in his cab today for 30 minutes before police extricated him. Critically injured, he was taken to Massachusetts General Hospital suffering with fractured skull and internal injuries.

Pet Duck On a Lark?

ALBANY, N. Y., June 1 (AP)—Fred Patrie of Lark street asked police today to hunt for Jake, a pet mallard duck, observing that "this is not the case of a duck on a lark."

"All the family," said Patrie, "have a great affection for the bird and I'd hate to think of it being in a stew pot tomorrow."

Well, Let's Hope June Is Better

May's cold weather recorded a rainfall of 4.42 inches, 1.24 inches above normal, G. Harold Noyes, official U. S. weather forecaster, announced.

It rained on 14 days during the month, among those three of the five Sundays and three of the four Saturdays.

One "amateurish" kiss was all the so-called petting there was in a recent Malden high school play, criticised as "risque" by a woman school committee member, Miss Anne H. Slattery, faculty dramatic coach, said today.

She warmly defended the play and its student cast, asserting that Mrs. Esther W. Jordan, who assailed the undergraduate drama, "probably doesn't even know what petting is."

"The boy who had the leading role in the play was so bashful that the kissing scene had to be cut to a minimum," Miss Slattery declared.

BARE LEGS OR NOT?

But while the school play "petting" discussion still raged today, the tide of verbal battle in Malden seemed definitely turning in favor of defenders of ankle sox for girl students.

It was the ankle sox issue which started all the argument, climaxed by charges which Mrs. Jordan made public at a school committee meeting.

She called High School Principal Thornton W. Jenkins: "a bit of an old fuddy duddy" and characterized his ban on ankle length hose as "incongruous."

WHAT OF TEACHERS?

Instead of worrying about sun-tanned bare legs of girl pupils, Principal Jenkins should be turning his attention to teachers who "wear one piece bathing suits," "paint their nails red" and coach "risque" school plays, Mrs. Jordan asserted.

Herself a Womens Christian Temperance Union member, Mrs. Jordan emphatically censured recent high school presentation of the play, "Three Corned Moon."

There was a scene in the play featuring "prolonged petting," she said, and a "wild drinking part." She also charged that the play was "full of profanity."

PRINCIPAL'S REPLY

First to answer Mrs. Jordan today was High School Principal Jenkins.

"Maybe I am an old fuddy duddy," he said, smilingly. "My feeling in the ankle sox matter was that school class-rooms are like business offices."

"It seemed to me that bare-legged styles weren't suitable for school wear, just as they would not be suitable for wear to business."

"But I understand our girl students are circulating a petition asking that ankle sox be permitted."

"If there's general sentiment in favor of lifting the ankle sox ban, I am willing that it shall be lifted."

"It's really just a question of good taste."

"I don't know what sort of bathing suits our high school teachers wear at the beaches. That's certainly out of my jurisdiction."

"But I don't believe teachers come to school with red painted fingernails. That charge is ridiculous."

"I was a spectator at the school

Hart Sees U. S. in Peril

HARTFORD, Ct., June 1 (INS)—"Never before have the political institutions or governmental principles of our nation been so menaced as they are now."

This was the warning left here today by Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, professor-emeritus of Harvard, who addressed the Society of the Descendants of the Founders of Hartford. The occasion was the commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the sermon of Thomas Hoecker before the Connecticut General Court.

"Not only is the United States in danger now, but is likely to be in more danger," Dr. Hart said. "Right now we are providing the power most likely to lose our greatest enemy with weapons for our own destruction."

Germany is accumulating oil tonight in this country against the possibility of war which would involve the United States, he said.

Posses Hunt For Kidnapers

(International News Photograph Service)

FEAR BOY DEAD—As hours passed and five-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., was not returned to his home at Princeton, Fla., fears mounted that the child has been slain by his kidnapers. Photo shows combination home, store and filling station of his father.

they hustled him to an auto and sped off northward to a secret destination.

A general call was sent out for volunteers to start a thorough search for some trace of the five-year-old youngster, stolen Saturday for $10,000 ransom which was paid early yesterday.

The highway through the center of Princeton soon was lined with automobiles for a mile in each direction as the aroused farmers responded.

SCOUTS JOIN HUNT

Hundreds of Boy Scouts arrived in automobiles. Members of veterans' organizations and civic clubs and CCC men also joined the searchers.

E. J. Connolly, FBI inspector, personally directed search of the area around the spot where Cash tossed the $10,000 in small bills from his car in accordance with a ransom note. Sheriff D. C. Coleman and deputies joined him.

"I talked with the family and nothing whatever happened last night," said W. P. Cash, the boy's uncle. "The case is exactly where it was yesterday only it is one day worse."

"I've given up all hope the boy will be found alive. I didn't have much hope from the start, but I feel that last night was the last chance for him to return alive."

The overalled Cash, who runs a rival filling station next door to James Cash, Sr., indicated his brother now was willing for the posses to take to the fields since 24 hours had elapsed after he paid the $10,000 ransom with no word from the abductors.

ARMED POSSES READY

The temper of the crowd, however, was to start searching regardless of whether the family and authorities were willing. Grizzled, sun-browned citrus growers and truck farmers with pistols on their hips and shotguns in their cars voiced grim threats against the men who snatched little "Skeegie" last Saturday night.

The territory to be searched was sparsely settled. East of the main highway, which runs north and south through Princeton, wide winter vegetable fields, weed-grown at this season, cover the flat country to the coast.

Cash, moderately well-to-do merchant, secluded himself in his frame apartment house to await word from the kidnapers. His wife was near prostration.

The father's last excursion had been to make a solitary drive at dawn Tuesday over a route mapped in a ransom note to drop the $10,000 in small bills, reportedly packed in a shoe box, at a signal from twinkling lights.

The spot where the ransom was paid was east of the main highway that runs between Miami and

JAMES BAILEY CASH, JR.

Bethlehem Raps NLB-CIO 'Leak'

Attempting to show CIO organizers were better informed about National Labor Relations board plans than were officers of the Bethlehem Steel Company's Fore River plant, counsel for the Bethlehem corporation cross-examined union witnesses at the Federal building today.

Elmer Sabers, secretary of Fore River local of the Independent Union of Marine and Ship Building Workers, was shown a letter allegedly mailed by his local on March 8, 1938.

The letter referred to a NLB hearing set for March 21.

Sabers testified he learned of the hearing from CIO Organizer Koch.

Bethlehem counsel offered testimony to show the NLB didn't notify corporation officers until March 10, two days after the CIO union letter was sent out.

A unanimous resolution was adopted to hold a Massachusetts Clinical Congress in the fall.

New officers elected were:

Dr. James Frothingham, president; Dr. A. Warren Stearns of Tufts medical school, vice-president; Dr. Alexander Egan of Boston University School of Medicine, secretary, and Dr. Charles S. Butler, treasurer.

PLYMOUTH, June 1 (AP)—Stanley E. Bakewell, Gibsons, Pa., construction foreman convicted of smearing historic Plymouth Rock with red paint, was sentenced to nine months in the House of Correction today. He appealed and was held in $1500.

Bakewell had been at work on a construction job in Scituate and visited Plymouth on the night of May 8. His counsel pleaded for leniency on the ground Bakewell did not realize the offense would be taken so seriously.

New Deal Test In Five States

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1—Politicians of both parties looked today to the five-state primaries this month to furnish further insight into the popularity of the New Deal, or the lack of it.

The keenest test will come Monday, in Iowa, where the situation has been complicated by the injection of the WPA as a political factor in the contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination between the incumbent, Senator Guy M. Gillette, and Representative Otha D. Wearin.

A remark made by Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, that if he were an Iowa voter he would vote for Wearin "on the record of the two men," stirred up such a row in Democratic circles that the politically-sensitive Senate devoted hours of debate to it.

SEN. REYNOLDS FIGHTS

In Iowa, as earlier in Florida, Pennsylvania and Oregon, the Democrats are badly split. The real extent of these splits may not be finally revealed until November. The Iowa primary takes on additional interest because it is the first, predominantly agricultural state to do any balloting since the crop-control act was made effective.

Before Iowa votes next Monday, North Carolina stages a primary on Saturday, the principal contest featuring Frank Hancock's attempt to gain the Senate seat now held by Senator Robert R. Reynolds.

MAINE TO BALLOT

Maine and Minnesota ballot on June 20, and North Dakota on June 28. The first two states are concerned with only local issues and candidates, but in North Dakota there is a sharp contest for the Republican senatorial nomination between Senator Gerald P. Nye and Governor William Langer. The state's non-partisan league is backing Langer.

Indiana Democrats will nominate a senator in state convention on June 26. The Hoosier Democrats are planning to refuse re-nomination to Senator Frederic Van Nuys.

Wire to Hopkins Stirs Iowa Fight

DES MOINES, June 1 (AP)—Iowa Treasurer Leo J. Wegman touched off a State House battle here today by releasing what he said was the "substance" of a telegram to Harry L. Hopkins commending the WPA chief for endorsing Otha D. Wearin in the Iowa Democratic senatorial primary conflict.

"Stand by your guns and more power to you," the telegram said. The wire was dated last May 26, the day after Governor Nelson G. Kraschel had expressed in a telegram his resentment at Hopkins' statement favoring Wearin.

Roosevelt to Tour West On Deal Issues

WASHINGTON, June 1 (INS)—Democratic aspirants to public office from coast to coast watched the White House closely today as secretaries, New Deal political advisers and railroad men worked on an itinerary that will carry President Roosevelt across the country in mid-July just as primary campaigns begin waxing hot.

It appeared that the President once again was going to carry direct to the people the issues on which Congress balked him.

Four fairly well established dates will carry Roosevelt into Ohio on July 8, where Senator Robert J. Bulkley has a fight on his hands; into Kentucky the day following, where Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley's seat is being sought by Governor A. R. "Happy" Chandler; into Oklahoma on July 10, where Senator Elmer Thomas has two primary opponents, and finally on to California, where Senator William Gibbs McAdoo faces a contest.

Walsh Pledges Business Aid On Wage Bill

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—"Little business" won assurances from Senate conferees today that they would fight for elastic wage-hour standards in order to protect its interests.

Senators Thomas (D.) of Utah, Walsh (D.) of Massachusetts and Pepper (D.) of Florida said many small merchants and manufacturers had declared they could not continue to operate if they had to provide the same minimum wages and maximum hours as larger firms.

The three senators are among members of a joint committee which will begin tomorrow to draft compromise wage-hour legislation.

Walsh, pointing out that 65 per cent of the nation's business firms employ less than 20 persons, said any compromise bill should consider the ability of an employer to adjust himself to its provisions over a period of months or years.

"I fear that any other method," he said, "would operate to the advantage of big industries, bringing disastrous consequences to that large number of businesses which has only a small number of employees."

Jobs Fewer F. D. R. Finds

because of deferred needs and lessening inventories, will be in a position a little later on to increase private employment. Emergency employment, therefore, should come right away instead of being deferred to a time when it may synchronize with an increase in private employment.

"It is the gap existing now that we want to fill. Therefore, I greatly hope that the emergency appropriation bill in its final form will put no restrictions on the immediate starting of work projects, and that it will make possible the selection of those projects which can be got under way most speedily.

"To this end, flexibility of actual administration is essential. I cannot too strongly point out that there is unanimous agreement in the executive branch of the government that the appropriation, flexible in administration, should have as its principal objective putting the greatest number of unemployed to work in the shortest time."

TYDINGS WARNS

During the debate on the speed-land bill Senator Tydings (D.) of Maryland predicted that unless recent trends of business and government were altered the inevitable result would be "to subject the people of this nation to a darker and even graver depression than any which we have yet passed through since 1929."

Tydings told the Senate he had "fought consistently" for the "pay as we go" plan of Senator La Follette (Prog.) of Wisconsin.

"Sommer or later, we must face one of three roads—crushing taxation, inflation or repudiation," he said.

Quoting from Commerce Department data, Tydings said business had "paid out" a total of more than $23,000,000,000 in excess of income during the seven years, 1929 through 1935. At the same time the government contributed $16,000,000,000 more than revenue, he said.

Arrested for allegedly distributing handbills without a permit, two Harvard students were let off with a warning in Roxbury district court today.

The Harvard men are Arthur Ogden, 23, a graduate student living in Divinity Hall, Cambridge, and Carl Shapiro, 21, of Winthrop Hall, Cambridge. Police took them in custody near Jeremiah Burke school, Roxbury.

The handbills they were accused of distributing advertised a meeting of the American Student Union.

$3000 More Voted In Gift Job Probe

By a roll call vote of 25 to 10 the Senate today adopted an order to place $3000 at the disposal of the special legislative committee investigating "gift jobs" in the state Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Previously $10,000 had been asked for continuance of the investigation by Senator Peter Casey of Milford.

'Reds Grabbing WPA'

those who have fallen under the evil spell of the emissaries of Stalin must be immediately retrained from the public service.

TIME FOR ACTION

"We must root out and destroy this menace to the future welfare of America. I call upon the school officials of Boston to show no hesitation in dealing with this situation."

"This is a time for stern measures. Nothing short of expulsion of the guilty from the city service will satisfy the thousands of patriotic men and women now employed by our school department."

Acting Mayor Kerrigan said he was asking Superintendent of Schools Arthur L. Gould to launch an immediate inquiry, and that he also was asking Chairman Henry J. Smith to call a special meeting of the school committee.

The spread of Communism in Massachusetts, the legislative commissions report declared, is a real menace.

"As the result of its intensive study," the report declares, "the commission is constrained to state that indications point more strongly to an imposition of totalitarianism from the left than from the right."

The report also asserts the Reds have gained a foothold in the WPA and is seeking control of CIO unions.

The report flatly charges the Communist party with being "a conspiratorial body" having for its objective "the eventual overthrow of the federal government and the government of Massachusetts and other states of the Union by force and violence."

The report also charges: Communists are seeking control of CIO unions, and many CIO Active Communists "may" have gained a foothold in the WPA by obtaining strategic posts in WPA unions.

The majority of CIO union members are not aware of the Communist leadership in that organization, the report asserts. The report declares:

"In large industries organized by the CIO, Communist functionaries occupy leading and strategic positions through which they dominate groups of which they are a part."

REDS AMONG STUDENTS

Communist propaganda seeking to attract American youth likewise is denounced, particularly the Young Communist League and Communist students' organizations.

"Particular efforts have been made by the Communist party and the Young Communist League to organize college students into a revolutionary organization," the report states.

Listed as having branches of the Young Communist League are—Boston University, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northeastern University, Radcliffe, Simmons College, Smith, Tufts and Wellesley. Branches, it is stated, also exist in Cambridge, Chelsea, Dorchester, Framingham, Haverhill, Malden, Peabody, Provincetown, Quincy, Roxbury, Roxbury Crossing, South End, Boston, Springfield, West End, Boston, and Worcester.

Revelations that Hub teachers were used to spread Red doctrines were disclosed in a letter to Philip Frankfield, recognized leader of the Communist movement in Boston.

It was signed, according to the report, by Kenneth Hunter and Arthur Herzog, Jr., of 244 Waverly place, New York city, leaders of the Communist party in that sector.

TEACHERS IN TRAP

The letter revealed for the first time since its receipt in executive session of the special commission "a journey into Connecticut" by Hunter and Herzog, during which they met two Boston school teachers and a sister of one, who is soon to become a school teacher in Boston.

Frankfield and Herzog pointed out in their letter to Frankfield that they were then on vacation, but not on vacation so far "as the cause is concerned."

The letter read in part: "So far I have put in some good hard work on all three with the gratifying result that when we parted company, they, of their own volition, had asked 'Where may we learn more of this? How can we continue after we return to Boston?'"

"Concealing a grin of triumph I assured them I would do my best to dig up some contacts in Boston where the gentle process of enlightenment might continue."

"Let me state I should not be doing this were I not convinced that they would, under proper influence, become comrades and what is more very valuable ones."

"In New York I know we are very short on good attractive 'fronts.' Possibly the same is true in Boston."

"These three, as you may speedily ascertain, would be excellent for this purpose and there is no reason to presume they would not become solid comrades in every other way."

UNDER FALSE NAME

"The first one is Mrs. R. A., who also sails under the maiden name of Miss M. C. While the other two naturally know my sympathies, they are not positive that I am myself a comrade. Mrs. A. does not know definitely, not only my real name, but the party name under which I also write."

"She is particularly good material—probably the best of the three. She is young (around 24), very attractive physically and also an intelligent woman. She is sympathetic to all our approaches, but to this point has done very little about it. That she is eager to embark on some sort of work is evident in that she has written since we parted to inquire what I was doing about the promised contact."

The letter gave names and addresses of the prospects and also described one who in "mailing under her maiden name" and "who is a teacher in the Boston public schools."

This same teacher was described as a person who has "a lot of time on her hands" added to her inquisitiveness in the direction of the left. Some reference was also made to the prospects of "taking care" of her husband in the event that he objected to her interest in the movement.

"The second prospect," read the letter, "is Mrs. A's sister, a Miss H.—C. She is also of more than average attraction and quite young, not more than 18, I judge. She is at present completing her last year at — in Boston, expecting to teach next year."

"She has previously been worked on by a New York contact during the summer and is more than ready to accept our ideas."

'ATTRACTIVE COMRADES'

The third of the trio mentioned in the letter was described also as a school teacher in Boston—"a personable young lady of about 24 named Miss E. H."

The letter continued with the suggestion that some of the most attractive comrades could be chosen to contact them.

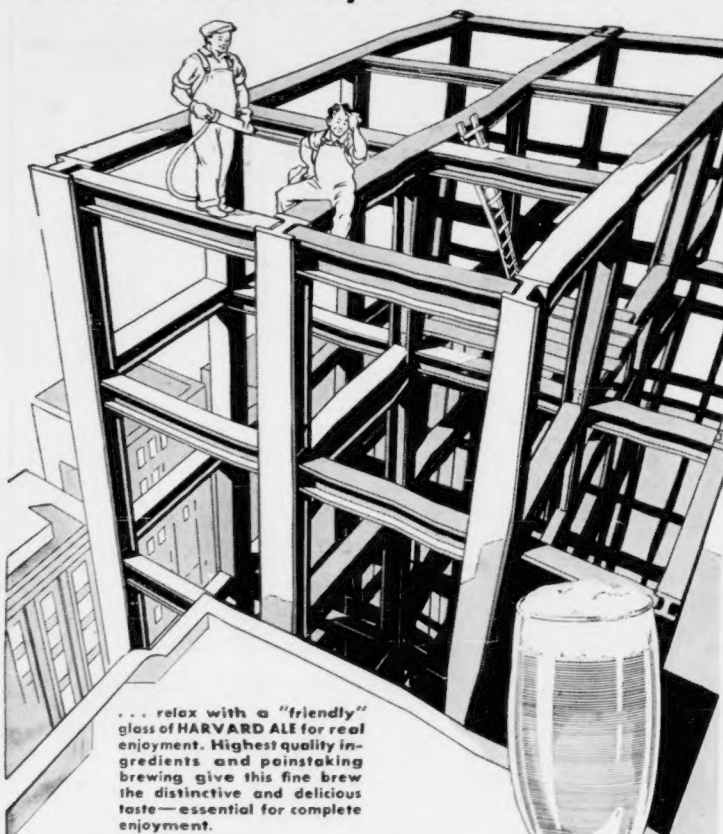

A woman comrade was suggested as a contact in the case of "Mrs. A," the first of the three teachers mentioned. Men were suggested for the other two.

"Mrs. A" and her sister "Miss H. C." were described as living at "59 — street, Dorchester," and "Miss E. H." as residing at 531 — avenue, Roxbury.

Fewer than 100 pages of the 3000-page report are given over to the commission's findings on Fascism, Nazism and other subversive activities. The rest deals with Communism.

Named by the report as top Communist in Massachusetts is Philip Frankfield, "state secretary."

Forecast New Revere Crime Indictments

Several new indictments, including one naming a prominent Revere sportsman, were forecast today as Attorney-General Paul A. Devere's "blue ribbon" grand jury continued its probe of alleged Revere racketeering, gambling and graft.

The expected indictments were believed to be in consequence of a state police raid, February 22, 1937, on a gambling room in the North Shore garage.

Four loaded revolvers were found on the floor during the raid.

CONFERENCE WITH JUDGE

Assistant Attorney Generals Maurice M. Goldman and John S. Derhan and Assistant District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne were in conference today with Judge Lewis H. Goldberg, who presides in the first session of Suffolk superior court.

The conference followed a grand jury session at which two of the state troopers, who participated in the 1937 Revere raid, were witnesses.

Find Stolen Auto Ablaze

Peabody police today sought to raise an expensive automobile that plunged 25 feet into a quarry pit on the Peabody turnpike and was discovered a mass of flames.

Michael Della Russo, Revere skating rink operator, said the car was stolen from him. He did not know it was stolen, he said, until Peabody police, checking back on the license plates, notified him.

The blazing car was discovered by a passing motorist. When firemen arrived they found the interior of the machine a mass of flames. In the car, after the fire was extinguished, police found a coil of bailing wire.

April Store Sales Show Increase

Last April's department store sales in New England jumped 3.3 per cent over April 1937, reports the monthly review of the Boston Federal Reserve Bank today. Easter business was thought to have caused the increase.

Killers' Reward Just $0.00

They laid down 50 cents on the counter and then shot to death the store proprietor for the few dollars they didn't get.

In his pockets, William Phillips, 53, had his total capital, $125. At home were the seven dependents for whose support he labored from 7 o'clock in the morning until 11 at night.

So when three youths held him up in his Somerville variety store, Phillips battled in desperation to save the little he owned.

Today he lay in the morgue with two bullets through his chest—victim of three gun-punks for whom Somerville officials prepared to offer a $500 reward even while all Greater Boston was being searched.

First result of the search was the picking up of an 18-year-old

Charlestown resident by Special Officer John Donovan and Leon DeRoehn of Charlestown. He was held for questioning.

In the youth's pockets were found .32 caliber bullets and a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

Bullets found at the murder scene were from a .32-caliber automatic, Somerville police said. They were turned over to Captain Charles J. Van Amburgh, state ballistics, and will be compared with slugs fired from the Charlestown suspect's gun.

WOMAN GIVES CLUE

Two more youths were picked up for questioning in Somerville, on the story of Mrs. Annie Pazio, 110 Perkins street, eye-witness to last night's slaying, that she had seen them in the neighborhood Monday night.

With the murder investigation moving swiftly, District Attorney Warren L. Bishop assigned from his office his first assistant, William G. Andrew, as well as Lieutenant Daniel M. O'Connell and Inspector Edward J. Glennon.

Boston police assigned were Detective-Sergeant William J. Bonner and Detective Joseph L. McGovern.

They are working with Detective-Sergeant Earl W. Elliott and Detective John H. Baker of Somerville police.

Phillips, sole support of his invalid wife, his 90-year-old mother, his own three children and the two children of his dead sister, was shot to death late last night as he battled the bandits with milk and tonic bottles.

He fell across the threshold of the store as the killers fled and

STUNNED BY THEIR TRAGEDY
Mrs. Phillips, Wife of Victim, and Her Mother

INSPECTOR FORISTALL, OFFICER KILEY
'That's Where They Killed Him'

as he apparently attempted to pursue, even as he was dying.

In a reconstruction of the fatal few minutes, police saw one of the bandit trio placed on guard at the door and the other two coming in and asking for cigarettes as Phillips was preparing to close for the night.

One of the bandits is believed to have placed on the counter the 50-cent piece later found there. Then the pair are believed to have drawn guns and demanded the storekeeper's money—Phillips answering with his barrage of bottles.

Then, with Phillips in pursuit of the bandits, the shots rang out and the storekeeper's faltering steps carried him only as far as the door, where he fell, his keys under him.

YOUTH SUSPECTED

The blackness of the night swallowed the fleeing trio as they pounded down Perkins street, away from the store at No. 111.

Police said after investigation and questioning of witnesses in the street, however, that they believe one of the slayers to be a Somerville youth well known to them and long wanted for other crimes.

As soon as he learned of the brutal killing and found that early attempts toward identifying the slayers through Rogues' Gallery pictures had failed, Mayor John M. Lynch announced Somerville would post the largest reward possible.

"These killers must be caught,"

said the mayor, "and we ask the co-operation of every law-abiding citizen of the state."

Mayor Lynch said he had conferred with Police Chief Thomas Damery, who had asked that the city authorize a $500 reward for capture and conviction of the killers.

Belief that the slaying-trio were youths living not far away from Metropolitan Boston was expressed by police as they began today a closer search of city and state police files.

Phillips was alone in the variety store when confronted by the bandits, who had been seen by witnesses to enter.

A few minutes later, witnesses heard shots inside—then they saw the bandits race out and dash down Lincoln street in the darkness.

Radio Officers Timothy J. Durey and August Cidado were in a police car only a block from the murder store when they heard the shots.

At the same time, neighbors telephoned police headquarters, and a radio alarm was sent out, which was picked up by Corkery and Cidado.

They sped to the store, where a number of bullet strikes on the floor bore mute testimony to the losing battle Phillips had waged.

Not long after this crime, Hyman Harris, insurance collector, was found slugged and unconscious on the steps of his home in Franklin street, Somerville. His pockets were turned inside out.

After an investigation, police announced, however, that there probably was no connection between the two cases.

Crash Victim's Condition Grave

Antonio Longo, 19, of Hazeltine avenue, Melrose, was in a serious condition in Melrose Hospital today after being thrown 20 feet through the top of his car when it collided with another machine at West Highland avenue and Sargent street, Melrose Highlands.

His father was killed less than four years ago when struck by a truck near the scene of the crash.

Saw 3 Killers Flee as Dying Man Pursued

Even as he drew his last breaths, William Phillips, 53-year-old Somerville storekeeper, pursued with a milk bottle the bandits who had shot him.

This was told to the Boston Evening American today by the only woman eyewitness, Mrs. Annie Pazino of 110 Perkins street, directly opposite the murder store.

MRS. ANNIE PAZINO

"I was sitting at the front window listening to the radio shortly after 11 o'clock when I heard some shots," said Mrs. Pazino. "There seemed to me to be about four."

TAIL MAN IN BROWN

"I looked across the street and saw a tall man in a brown suit, with no hat or coat, coming out of the spa."

"With him was a short man of dark complexion, swarthy, I'd say, with a blue suit, gray topcoat and gray hat. He was carrying a gun. As he backed out over the store threshold, he fired three more shots into the store."

"Both men turned and ran into an alley alongside the store. 'I started to scream, 'They've shot Bill! They've shot Bill!'"

TRIED TO SCREAM

"Bill stumbled out of the store after them. He had a milk bottle in one hand. As he crossed the threshold he fell forward on his face. He was groaning."

"He tried to get up on his knees and fell back on his face. He seemed to be trying to shout something, but the only sound that came was a groan."

"Windows started to go up then and people started running down the street. I heard someone say that somebody had called the police."

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and
Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and painful and sleep is restless and night visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right, safe, harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 25-cent box of Gold Medal Heavrilin Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Heavrilin Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Heavrilin in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffiness, moist palms and nervousness.

And a forecast here that Mayor Tobin might astonish the taxpayers by achieving enough economies to reduce the taxrate from a logical $46 per thousand to the rate of $40 per thousand may yet come true . . . From Quebec, Mayor Tobin has sent word in a public address that the Boston taxrate will be lower than estimated, approximately $41.30 . . . It may be even lower than that.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1938

"The stain" on the British reputation can only be washed out, says the Observer, by another coat of American dollar-varnish.

In Massachusetts municipal government has always been a democracy. Let it continue so.

We agree, and so will most people. Organizations which are ~~turning~~ to prevent juvenile delinquency ought to be encouraged.

be able to get a line on Administration power by the way the chairmanship cat jumps.

The fan, that beautiful old first-aid to romance, is coming into fashion again. How useful it will be for the modern girl to hold before her face—to hide the absence of a blush!

It is obvious that there can be no single uniform pattern for the portion of adults in the population increases."

Field-Knowlton
Bridal Tomorrow

By BETTY ALDEN

Patrick White Knowlton and Henry Field could make their wedding at Lynnbrook, palatial Southboro estate of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, a strictly family affair by simply inviting their host and hostesses as witnesses... for the bride-to-be is Mr. Lindsay's cousin, and Mr. Field is Mrs. Lindsay's nephew...

They have, however, issued a few other invitations to swell the small circle of relatives and friends who will attend the wedding breakfast tomorrow at Lynnbrook immediately after the ceremony... Mrs. William Lindsett Dexter of Hyde Crossing is also a cousin of the bride.

In July the newlyweds will sail for Europe where Mr. Field, who is curator of the Field Museum in Chicago, will be the official American representative at a conference of anthropologists and physical scientists at Copenhagen.

Tomorrow's bride has been house guest at the Lindsays while making last minute preparations for the wedding... Her cousin, Minna Lindsay, is remembered as the society songstress who made headlines two years ago when she began a singing career in a New York night club... concealing her identity by wearing a mask and preferring to make her way on the merits of her voice, rather than because of her social prestige...

Joanne Bass has sought the peace and quiet of Peterboro, New Hampshire, to make last minute preparations for her wedding to Marshall Field, Jr., on June 20... she has closed the Marlborough street apartment she occupied this winter while studying in Boston and joined her parents in Peterboro... The wedding will take place at her Grandmother Bird's (Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird) in East Walpole...

According to present plans, Mrs. Samuel Warren of Essex and the long-legged bird will arrive almost simultaneously at the Philip B. Weld household in Chicago... Around June 20, Mrs. Warren expects to visit her son-in-law and daughter, the former Anne Warren, to greet a little stranger in the Weld family...

Graduation Days at Exclusive Schools

THURSDAY afternoon at four some of the season's most attractive debutantes will pass a milestone in their lives... when they receive diplomas from Beaver Country Day... In the group are Nancy Bertelsen, Anne Pearmain, Dina Fraser, Frances Walker, Joan Leonard, "Baba" Madden and Nancy McNeil...

Proud parents at the Winsor School graduation exercises at 10:30 Friday morning will include Mr. and Mrs. A. Barr Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hubbard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Erland Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harwood and Mrs. W. B. Duncan Dana, all of whom will have young hopefuls taking part in the ceremonies...

The May School exercises will also take place Friday morning... with such attractive girls as Janet Pierce, Caroline Louise Clark, Ruth Bonant, Frances Brett and Jane Bliss receiving their diplomas, symbols of the completion of their prep-school days...

Virginia Lee, who made her debut last autumn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hyde of West Newton.

Tea Fetes Committee

Committee members for the cocktail party and fashion show to be held June 17 at the Fountains in Marlborough to benefit the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, will be entertained at tea this afternoon by Virginia Phelan of Brookline.

Some of the new debts who have been asked to model in the fashion show have also been invited to tea and to meet the committee which includes Miss Phelan and Mrs. Wallace Pierce, the co-chairmen; Polly Cotter, Dorothy and Janet Pierce, Miss Hixings, Patricia Phelan, Marie O'Connell, Mrs. Frank Huntress, Mrs. Richard Ward, Jr., Mrs. E. Denton Lyons, Anne Whipple and Jean Lyons.

Madame Clayburgh Returns Home

Madame Anna Clayburgh of New York returned to Gotham yesterday after spending the week on an excursion to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wheeler at their summer home in Manchester. On June 14 Madame Clayburgh's daughter will become the bride of Mrs. Wheeler's brother, James Hooper Grew, in fashionable St. Bartholomew's Church in New York.

STRONG—ARMSTRONGED—Here's Barney Ross (left) being walloped with everything except the club license in his fight at Madison Square Garden Bowl with Henry Armstrong last night. Henry's long right helped him take virtually all 15 rounds to an easy victory over Barney and the welterweight title.

HANGING ON!—Barney Ross gave up his welterweight crown to Henry Armstrong, but not without displaying one of the most courageous exhibitions ever. Practically out on his feet from the fifth round, Barney carried on until the finish. This photo shows Barney tottering while the new champion is looking for a spot to put over the K. O. There wasn't any.

Armstrong Signs 3-Year Contract

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs today signed Henry Armstrong, the double fight champion, to a contract whereby he will have exclusive promotional rights of the sensational Negro for three years. The contract is identical with the one Jacobs holds with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Under the terms of the agreement, the two nations will share the cost of the project. A total of $100 million will be required to build the plant, which will be owned and operated by the Mexican Government. The plant will be located in the state of Veracruz, near the town of Minatitlán. The plant will be a joint venture between the Mexican Government and the United States. Does the man right side of his head bowed and line from the terrible pounding he took, remained in a room. After the fight he announced his retirement from the ring and then was whisked away to a secret hiding spot to recuperate.

Of the gross receipts of $140,000, Ross received $47,905. Armstrong's share was $27,203.

Kramer Names Tall Talk Safest Wonderland Bet

By MURRAY KRAMER

BEST BET—TALL TALK—NINTH RACE

Tall Talk, a newcomer to Wonderland Park, shapes up as the best bet of the night in the ninth race futurity at Revere tonight.

The youngster was badly cracked up last year and fears the rail, but out in the eight box he should find smooth sailing. If he clears the turn in good shape, he figures to be a cinch.

Dog Operators Hail Victory On Taxes

Massachusetts dog track operators today hailed their victory over proponents of tax increase measures after the House voted down the last two bills seeking to boost the state's share of greyhound racing pari-mutuel profits.

The operators, as a result of the House action, will continue to take down 15 per cent of the money bet, giving the State 3 1/2 per cent and keeping 11 1/2 per cent.

One measure asked an increase from 3 1/2 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent as the state's share. The other asked a boost to 6 1/2 per cent on a graduated scale.

Branch Never Planned Ouster Campaign

ST. LOUIS, June 1 (AP)—Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, denied today that he had been electioneering against the reappointment of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as commissioner of baseball.

Set July 11-15 For Griswold Tilt

NEW LONDON, Ct., June 1 (AP)

The Shenecosett Country Club officials announced today the annual women's invitation golf tournament for the Griswold Cup will be staged here July 11-15 and the annual men's invitation for the Marston-Shenecosett trophy July 21-24.

"Poppycock," Rickey declared. "I never had a conversation with anyone on that subject, and I don't intend to."

Donald L. Barnes, president of the Browns, said last night that Rickey had never "discussed any matter of this character with us."

Maplewood Club Wins Hearst Prize

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 1.—The coveted William Randolph Hearst trophy, emblematic of the championship of the state of New Jersey, today is in the proud possession of the Maplewood Rifle Club. The marksmen from Maplewood, N. J., scored 934 out of a possible 1000 points.

Five handsome plaques, offered by William Randolph Hearst, Jr., to winning teams in the state regional contests, are now the permanent property of the Lakewood Rifle and Pistol Club, which tallied 921 points; Post Rifle and Pistol Club of Allendale, 918; Perth Amboy Rifle Club, 918; Hutton Hill Rifle and Pistol Club of Haddonfield, 861; Maplewood Rifle Club, 934.

Major Mark R. M. Gwilliam of Bloomfield, chairman of the judging committee, presided at the ceremonies in the clubhouse. Voicing the appreciation of the 29 clubs in the association, Mark Gwilliam declared:

"We are grateful for the interest and wholehearted support of our activities by both Mr. William Randolph Hearst, senior, and junior. The offering of these trophies again expresses their high patriotic purposes and never-failing Americanism."

A record-breaking field of approximately 2000 crack shots competed, the five highest on each team tallying. The Maplewood shooters will hold the William Randolph Hearst trophy for one year. Representing William Randolph Hearst, Jr., in awarding the plaques to P. J. O'Hare, Harry Cornell, C. Vanderhush, T. P. Sanson, John G. Hubbard and P. A. Hochstetel, of the victorious teams, Jim O'Connor, of the New York Journal and American, conveyed the greetings and congratulations of William Randolph Hearst and Mr. Hearst, Jr.

New Spar Mates For Schmeling

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 1 (AP).—Fortified by a batch of new sparring partners, Max Schmeling will resume tomorrow the regular training grind for his heavyweight title bout with Joe Louis in the Yankee Stadium June 22.

The German challenger may increase his glove work to six rounds at that time.

Ten miles of road work were to comprise Max's stint today.

James Rides 56 Winners

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1 (AP).—Making a strong bid to become the nation's leading rider, as he was in 1926, 18-year-old Basil James boosted his total wins to 56 for 21 days at Tanforan race track by bringing home five winners in a row.

James' riding here has overshadowed that of Johnny Adams, the nation's number one rider last year. Adams has ridden 31 winners.

Memorial Day James booted in four winners and earlier in the meet brought home six. His winners largely have been favorites. Adams has the habit of booting longshots home.

James piloted Gallienne to a photo finish victory in the feature six-furlong dash yesterday to pay $11.80, $5.90 and $3.90.

$31,950

Roberts' Purse

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1 (AP).—Chunky Floyd Roberts, the Van Nuys, California, daredevil who had to be persuaded to drive the car that won the 26th Memorial Day 500-mile Speedway Classic, was $31,950 richer today.

He collected his winnings, contained in 39 checks, at the annual victory dinner sponsored, last night, by the Speedway Corporation.

Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis collected checks totaling $14,450 for finishing second in the grind, while Chet Miller of Detroit, in third place, received $7300.

Then down the list, in order of their finish, came Ted Horn of Los Angeles, who pocketed $4600; Chet Gardner, Long Beach, Calif., $4100; Herb Ardinger, Pittsburgh, $2625; Harry MacQuinn, Milwaukee, $2175; Billy Devore, St. John, Kas., $1925; Billy Thorne, Tucson, Ariz., $1775; and Frank Weerne, Pasadena, Calif., $1650. Every starting driver got at least $500.

What the Stars Did

JOHNNY MURPHY and BILL KNICKERBOCKER, Yanks—Murphy allowed one hit, one walk in four and two-thirds innings as relief hurler and won his third game; Knickerbocker paced Yanks' 16-hit attack with triple, double and two singles as champions won, 12-5.

AMERICAN-RECORD WINS

The Boston American-Record baseball team beat the U. S. Engineers by a score of 12 to 8. The winning battery was Jim Garrity pitching and Frank Sullivan catching.

Underhand Hurlers Best, Says Grove

By LEFTY GROVE
As Told to Austen Lake

If I were a young pitcher, just starting out in hope of making a reputation for myself in professional or college ball, I believe I would train myself to pitch underhand, somewhat after the fashion of Eldon Auker of Detroit.

I know no surer way of catching the attention of big league scouts and no more effective way to foil the present crop of batters, unused as they are to swinging against the "submarine" style of pitching.

To a pitcher of short stature this underhand delivery is double advantage, for he is closer to the ground than the average pitcher of today. And height in an overhanded pitch is regarded as a decided advantage.

DUNN'S ADVICE

Baseball has been good to me. I remember one of the first things the late Jack Dunn of Baltimore said to me when I came to this club in 1929, a green kid from the country of Maryland:

"Son," said Jack, in his big friendly way, "be good to baseball, and baseball will be good to you."

I think I have kept faith, and Jack's prophecy has come true. At home in Lanarconing, which is a little town in the mountains of western Maryland, I have a big silver cup that was given to me by the baseball writers of America as their choice for "most valuable player" in 1931. The cup is filled with a dozen or more baseballs, each a souvenir of a particularly happy memory.

Some are balls with which the last out was made in some unusual game. Some are signed by great men and players. I would not part with them for a large sum of money.

Besides the cup stands a three-foot silver trophy given to me by the league, also for being selected as the "most valuable player" during the season of 1931, and I take pride in that, too, since only three pitchers in modern major league baseball have been so honored. Walter Johnson, Dixie Vance and myself.

"BREAKS" EVEN UP

I want to caution young pitchers at this point to school themselves to accept the "breaks" behind them philosophically.

Bear in mind that for every mistake a player makes behind you, there will be another time when he will make a remarkable "save," a sizzling stop, or a finger tip catch, so that the fielding "breaks" even up over the long run.

Take your good luck and bad luck in the same stride, not being over elated by the one or too much depressed by the other.

THE END

Hatlo Dean Ready To Pitch In 2 Weeks

CHICAGO, June 1 (INS)—It is with a feeling akin to frenzied joy the news is bruited about today that the $270,000 pitching arm of Mr. Dean is all right again after a month's hibernation.

Last the joy get out of hand, however, it is well to note immediately that Mr. Dean's arm will be used only in batting practice for another 10 days or so, and that it will not see action in a regular game.

For Doc John Davis, Chicago Cubs manager, secured his anouncement the Dean arm is "completely recovered" with the advice Dixie take it easy for a while.

Doc Davis went so far as to suggest to Manager Charles Grimm that he make use of the Dean wing in relief roles for a week or so.

But Manager Grimm knows as well as anyone that giving a $270,000 arm such lowly work would be unbecoming, not to say downright extravagant.

"I do not plan to use Dixie in relief roles," he said. "He'll pitch in batting practice every day. But Dean will start within two weeks."

GEHRIG PLAYS 2000TH Game

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP).—Lou Gehrig, the New York Yankees' "iron man," played in his 2000th consecutive American League game yesterday as the world champions opposed the Boston Red Sox.

On June 1, 1925, Gehrig broke into the Yankee lineup as a pinch-hitter for "Fessie" Wanninger. The following afternoon Lou replaced Wallie Pipp at first base and he's been there ever since. In addition, he has played in some 600 exhibition and 30 World Series games.

Histrionic Best of Suffolk - Wilson

Regal Link Choice In First

By DAVE WILSON

BEST BET—HISTRIONIC—3RD
SUFFOLK DOWNS, June 1—Histrionic, an up-and-coming gelding from the fashionable Kendeale Stable, looks like a cinch to escape the maiden ranks here tomorrow.

Fourth to Star Flower in his seasonal debut, Histrionic needs only to turn in a carbon copy of that splendid endeavor to literally smother indifferent non-winners encountered in the third number, a dash of six furlongs.

FIRST RACE

Regal Link, Rodeo, Questionable
REGAL LINK skipped five panels in 1:02 over a sloppy track to win as his rider pleased only a few days back. The Westwick filly is moving up a long way in the day's opener, but there's no telling just how good she may be. RODEO is the early speed of the party and the horse to catch QUESTIONABLE is dropping weight.

SECOND RACE

Singing Slave, Merry Ha Ha, Light Rolls
SINGING SLAVE, away since Florida, has been thoroughly reconditioned under the watchful eyes of astute Harvey Campbell and will be coming up fit and ready to win first crack out of the box. MERRY HA HA is descending the claiming scale and may prove troublesome. LIGHT ROLLS is the early speed.

THIRD RACE

Histrionic, Dinner Jacket, Michigan Lady
If anything upsets HISTRIONIC it will be DINNER JACKET. The latter was well seasoned in Maryland competition before shipping to the local oval and has since worked briskly. MICHIGAN LADY, fourth to Prince Torch in most recent race, shapes up next best.

FOURTH RACE

Cavour, Winter Sport, Flying
CAVOUR, fourth to High Line in his seasonal debut, easily earns the call over less capable rivals in the fourth. WINTER SPORT was barely nosed out the other day by Brown Marvel. He figures close. FLYING VICTORY, second to Curante in most recent race, is a keen money proposition.

FIFTH RACE

Mixwell, Saunderson, Fore
MIXWELL, third to Owlard and Crowning Glory in most recent race, easily holds the top recent form of the small field listed to match strides in the fifth. SAUNDERSON has been training like a wild horse in the mornings. Six furlongs in 1:12 4-5 went as a final. FORE is dropping down.

SIXTH RACE

Boston Pal, Melodist, Trina
BOSTON PAL, third to Pastry in his Belmont final and winner of previous start over the same track, looms all over the local choice in the sixth. MELODIST, which conquered Pocomp in the 1937 Wood Memorial, and hasn't been in the money since, is definitely on the improve, judging by two good sprint efforts at the current meeting.

SEVENTH RACE

Vitamin B, Parafida, Jerry S.
VITAMIN B was off poorly in the recent race won by Brass Money and never had a chance to prove his real worth. He was a red hot favorite that day and is worthy of another chance. PARAFIDA and JERRY S. shape up as the only dangers.

EIGHTH RACE

Pickout, Gay Boy 3rd, My Buddy
PICKOUT and GAY BOY 3RD figure pretty much alike on cold dope. I'm going to tempt fate by rating them as named. MY BUDDY showed a good effort in his seasonal debut and cannot be sold too short.

Slide, Kelly, Slide!

NO, HE IS NOT sliding into third base. This is just a motor cyclist hitting the dust after being tossed from his cycle during the Sydenham Cup races at the Crystal Palace, London. The slider is C. W. Davies, and his perfect sliding technique saved him from injury.

Posses Hunt Kidnapers In Florida

PRINCETON, Fla., June 1 (AP)—Abandoning hope for the safe return of kidnaped Jimmy Cash, hundreds of men undertook a manhunt in posses of 15 today while federal agents dramatically seized one of their number.

Emerging from a conference with the father, James Bailey Cash, Sr., in his home, the G-men grabbed M. F. Braxton, a carpenter about 55 years old, who was in the throng being formed into posses in a nearby school yard.

Shielding him with their bodies.

Hold Lawyers In Stock Case

Charged with being fugitives from justice in New York, in connection with a $700,000 stock swindle, two Boston lawyers were arrested today by Detective-Sergeant James V. Crowley and Detective Thomas Conaty.

According to information received in Boston from New York police, indictment warrants are out for the attorneys, Ralph H. Robb, 47, of Fairmount avenue, Wakefield, and Thomas W. Morris, 44, of Prospect street, Belmont.

They have offices at 10 State street, and when arrested today, they said, according to police, that they will fight extradition.

Son James Jump Ahead Of Writ

Boston's most expert and hard-boiled process servers will be on the trail of James Roosevelt, son of the President, when he comes to attend the wedding of his brother, John, June 18, it was revealed today.

Son James is wanted as a witness in a Suffolk civil court suit involving issues dating back to his days as a Boston insurance salesman.

Plaintiff in the suit is Arthur D. Cronin, insurance broker here.

He alleges that an insurance commission, which should have been paid to his firm in 1934, was actually paid to Ohlson, Russell & Company, an insurance firm with which James Roosevelt was then associated.

Counsel for Cronin is anxious for James to tell what, if anything, he knows about the insurance sale and the collection of the commission.

A court summons for James Roosevelt has been in the hands of process servers for some time.

Officers with the papers were lying in wait for him at Ford Hall on a recent occasion when he was scheduled as a speaker there.

But he cancelled his date, in order to go to the Mayo clinic, at Rochester, Minn., where specialists examined him for stomach trouble.

Next chance for the process servers will be the John Roosevelt-Anne Clark wedding at Nahant.

James Roosevelt, however, is expected to accompany his father, the President, here.

That will mean he'll be protected by a ring of secret service men and police.

Betting odds today were 5-3 against the process servers.

Kerrigan Asks Purge Of Schools

Action by school authorities to purge Boston's public schools of Reds was demanded by acting Mayor John E. Kerrigan today simultaneously with the filing of the report of the special legislative commission that has been investigating Communism and other isms in Massachusetts.

Boston school teachers are being used as "foils" for the spread of Communist doctrines among Boston school children, the commission's report avers.

"Revelation that the vicious doctrines of Communism have found their way into the Boston school system is truly amazing," Acting Mayor Kerrigan declared, "If such a situation does exist,
